COMPROMISE IN

Washington, Feb. 6—(UP)—Prospects of a compromise to break the deadlock over relief appropriations were brightened today when House Republican Floor Leader Tilson, who has stood unalterably against compromise, said he was willing to consider proposals that would not put the government in the field of private charity.

Tilson said he would agree to an increase of $15,000,000 for drought relief under terms of the original $45,000,000 appropriation, which did not include loans for food. He also suggested that the credit facilities of intermediate credit banks might be broadened to aid distressed areas.

Hospitalization Program
Chairman Johnson of the House Veterans committee announced today that his committee expects to report a veteran hospitalization measure to the House Tuesday, which probably will call for a $10,000,000 program.

He made the announcement after he had discussed the proposed legislation with the Republican Steering committee, which is expected to give the bill an early place on the House calendar.

The legislation will follow closely the $10,000,000 program recently recommended by Director Frank T. Hines of the Veterans' Bureau.

House leaders, it is understood, are planning to bring this bill forward to offset the bonus movement, and air them in their attempts to compromise.

HOPE MAINTAINED
Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Hope for a solution of the deadlock on relief legislation threatening an extra session of Congress was maintained on Capitol Hill today as the agreement on a basis for settlement reached by the Senate leadership was put up to the House leaders.

President Hoover continued silent, awaiting the outcome of negotiations proceeding at the Capitol, although it was made clear that he would not sanction any relief appropriation for food.

The dominant House Republican majority and the President have stood together. The question today seemed to be one of bringing an understanding between them on the compromise advanced by the Senate leaders of both parties.

Considerable bargaining, however, was in store on this agreement—which calls for an additional $25,000,000 drought loan appropriation in place of the $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund voted by the senate.

Wife Is Not Bound
To Become Mother

New York, Feb. 6—(UP)—The Appellate division has affirmed a ruling of Supreme Court Justice Byrne of Brooklyn that the marriage contract in New York state does not require a wife to bear children even though she promises before marriage to become a mother. It is the first such ruling ever made in this state on this phase of marriage.

Alfred A. Kahn, a plaintiff in the case, asked for an annulment of his marriage on the ground of fraud, alleging that before marriage his wife promised to have children and that after their marriage she took steps to make this impossible. His attorney argued that rupture of the agreement had made a happy marriage impossible.

Joseph S. Robertson, attorney for Mrs. Kahn, held that an annulment would be "equally fraudulent" and "would open wide the door" to anyone who might claim a promise of some sort had been made. A husband might allege an implied understanding, he said, and a wife might charge that her husband refused to have children.

Kahn sued for annulment because under state law divorce is granted only for infidelity.

Leading Aeronaut
Died Last Night

St. Louis, Feb. 6—(AP)—Albert Von Hoffman, who came to the United States from Austria when a youth and was one of the leading figures in the development of aviation here, died last night from heart disease at the age of 68.

Von Hoffman four times represented the United States in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race. Later he taught his two eldest sons to fly balloons.

After the war, Von Hoffman turned his attention to airplanes. Although he never learned to pilot a plane, he was one of the leading figures in the development of aviation here, and founded two aviation corporations.

Some Oddities In
Wire News Today
From Various Parts

BANK ENRICHED.

Heyworth, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—Two robbers enriched the Heyworth State bank by $20 today.

One of the pair presented a $20 bill and asked Kenneth Moore, Assistant Cashier, for change. Then his companion pulled out a revolver and commanded Moore, two customers and H. R. Howard, cashier, to raise their hands. Howard, instead, dived into the vault and produced a gun. As he emerged the robber fired twice, missing while Howard withheld fire because the customers were in line.

The robbers fled to their car without the $20 and escaped.

The cashier jotted down: Cash received, $20.

JUROR SATISFIED.

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—Someone stole the overcoat of James E. Murray, a juror deliberating the evidence in a case in Judge Henry Horner's court.

"It was a brand new one, too," Murray told the judge, "and besides this warm winter weather can't last forever."

"I am sorry to hear about this," said the judge, "people have lost lots of suits in my court, but never an overcoat. Here is the name of my tailor. Call on him and have another overcoat made up in my expense."

"With pleasure," said Murray.

CHRISTENING COSTLY.

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 6—(UP)—The christening of Mike Uvelac's ninth boy has cost $377.20 so far and the actual ceremony hasn't been held yet, Uvelac complained today.

The whole thing started, Uvelac explained, when he went after some wine to be used in the christening. On his way home his car struck another machine.

As a result, Uvelac was given a one to two years sentence for liquor transportation.

He was fined $100 and cost on the same charge.

He was fined $1 and costs for reckless driving.

He was ordered to pay the repair bill for the other car.

His wine was taken away.

The jail term was suspended by the judge, but Uvelac pointed out, the christening ceremony hasn't even begun.

CHANGE OF STATUS.
Aurora, Ill., Feb. 6—(UP)—John Bank was graduated from the Kane county jail today with honors, his status having changed suddenly from that of accused burglar to star witness in another man's trial.

Bank was charged with breaking into John Oros' speakeasy on two succeeding nights. Oros said he stole $30.10 one night and $28.50 the next.

After a week in jail with nothing to do but think, Bank called in Captain of Police John W. Reiland.

"Cap," he said, "I'm no burglar. I was just procuring proof that John Oros is a bootlegger and I'm ready to sign a complaint anytime."

He signed the complaint and Oros' place was raided. Liquor was found, so they took Bank out of jail and put Oros in and the former will be star witness when the latter comes to trial.

DIDN'T KNOW GIRL.

Birmingham, Eng., Feb. 6—(UP)—It was spring, the year was 1909 and T. R. Winshull was in love.

He wrote his sweetheart asking her to be his bride.

She rejected his proposal next day by letter.

A year later, it was spring. T. R. Winshull again was in love.

He proposed and was accepted. A family was reared.

In 1923 Winshull died.

Two years after the girl who had rejected his proposal died a spinster.

A few days ago T. R. Winshull, Jr., received a letter signed "Lilly," saying she had reconsidered her decision and would marry him.

Winshull stared at the letter in amusement. He did not remember the girl.

EVACUATION TWO QUAKE-STRICKEN
NEW ZEALAND CITIES PROGRESSING
AMID HARDSHIP, DISCOURAGEMENT

Napier, New Zealand, Feb. 6—(AP)—Evacuation of Napier and Hastings proceeded today attended by almost every conceivable hardship and discouragement.

Only one road is open and that is cracked and full of fissures. It is badly congested with hundreds of vehicles, all proceeding from the area stricken by Tuesday's earthquake and the tremors which have ceased hardly for an hour since.

A number of the dazed and nerve-shattered refugees, unable to continue along the "Via Dolorosa" have fallen by the way and died where they fell. Pathetic rude crosses have been placed over shallow graves dug for them.

BULLETIN

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Red Cross receipts in its drought relief campaign for $10,650,000 today totaled $8,511,871.

Officers of the Lee County Chapter of the Red Cross are today making personal appeal to the chairmen of the various district organizations of the chapter to speed up the work of raising Lee county's quota of $1,200 toward the $10,000,000 fund being solicited by the National Red Cross for relief work among the hungry and needy American in the southwestern drought area.

The county chapter officers still hope the quota can be raised without any organized campaign or personal solicitation—that the people of Lee county will voluntarily contribute sufficiently to meet the comparative small total asked of this county. Contributions can be made at any bank on the county, from which they will be forwarded to the treasurer of the county chapter.

Two Cars Stolen
Here, Recovered

Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber had been successful early this afternoon in locating two automobiles stolen from the streets of Dixon during the night. Bert Buhler's Ford roadster was located this morning about noon, abandoned on state highway route 2 north of Amboy near the Frank Buchanan farm home. Dennis Mead, a runaway patient from the Dixon state hospital, who was taken in custody this morning at 3 o'clock at Amboy, was to be questioned about the Buhler car.

At noon today, Chief Van Bibber received a long distance telephone message from the Melrose Park police stating that James Barry, aged 18, was being detained by them. Barry was said to have been taken in custody while driving a Buick coach which was stolen from a store on an accessory store on Peoria avenue during the night, belonging to S. R. Timothy. Mr. Timothy and Chief Van Bibber left this afternoon for Melrose Park to bring both the car and driver back to Dixon.

Mead, who with three others escaped from the state institution last night, was said to have told a weird story to the Amboy police, of having been trailed by bloodhounds and police from Freeport to Amboy, when he was found wandering about the streets at the early hour this morning. He was later returned to the institution.

DR. WORK HAS FLU

Denver, Feb. 6—(AP)—Dr. Hubert Work, former Postmaster General and later Secretary of the Interior in the Harding and Coolidge administrations, was in St. Joseph's hospital here today for treatment of influenza. Attendants said Dr. Work's condition was not serious. He is under the care of his son, Dr. Philip Work of Denver.

There was one ray of light, Belle believed, as she made her exit she turned to the press table to remark:

"Well this is a great break for the newspapers."

Then Miss Livingstone, who at various times in her career has described herself as "the most dangerous woman in the world," stepped meekly from the courtroom assisted by a United States Marshal.

BISHOP CANNON
FIGHTS IN OWN
DEFENSE TODAY

Fighting Spirit And Vitality Amaze
His Accusers

Washington, Feb. 6—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., showing a vitality and fighting spirit that amazed his accusers, began a vigorous attack today upon the accumulation of evidence by which his opponents are seeking his dismissal from the Methodist Episcopal church South.

Cannon was given the opportunity to defend himself after the four elders who entered the complaints had completed presentation of their case with two witnesses during the morning session. Cannon immediately began his defense, basing it upon assertions that he was the victim of an organized effort to discredit him in his work.

The final witnesses were Bert C. Farrer and the Rev. Eugene Crawford. Both testified last night but were called back for a brief examination today. Farrer, a handwriting expert, was understood to have identified letters exchanged between Cannon and Mrs. Helen McCallum of New York before their marriage last year.

The relations of the Bishop and Mrs. McCallum form the basis of the principal charges against Cannon. Evidence touching upon this phase of the case includes documents allegedly bearing his signature.

Cannon expected to conclude his defense at the afternoon session.

Belle Is Sentenced
To 30 Days In Jail

New York, Feb. 6—(UP)—Miss Belle Livingstone, clad appropriately enough, in black, somber garments of repentance, stood before Federal Judge Francis Caffery today and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for contempt of court.

The hostess of the 38th Street Country Club, which ignored a federal order to cease operation, showed the zeal and fire which have made her the city's outstanding opponent of the 18th amendment.

Smoothed her black coat, adjusted her black hat and commented, "They are making me a criminal to satisfy a lot of fanatics. I knew I was going to jail. I looked at that judge carefully and he seemed to be very dry."

Then Miss Livingstone, who at various times in her career has described herself as "the most dangerous woman in the world," stepped meekly from the courtroom assisted by a United States Marshal.

Masters After
Publicity Says
Lincoln Student

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6—(UP)—Criticism of Abraham Lincoln as "lazy," "unkempt" and "mannerless" in a new Lincoln biography by Edgar Lee Masters, author of "Spoon River Anthology," was described today as "sensationalism in an effort to get publicity" by H. W. Fay, custodian of Lincoln's tomb here and an authority on Lincoln.

"It is one of those sensational things aimed to get publicity just as other authors have written sensational things about other great men to attract attention to themselves," said Fay, a former newspaperman and who for 65 years has been collecting pictures and other relics of Lincoln.

"My grandfather was a personal friend of Lincoln's when the latter was seeking election to the United States Senate and stories the former told me before he died being the cold Lincoln was far from being the warmest kind of a politician, never taking advantage of a political trick to gain a point but looking far ahead."

To the charge that Lincoln was lazy, Fay asserted:

"He was a student and spent lots of time studying, but he loved to work too."

To controvert the charge that Lincoln was unkempt and the suggestion that he might not have washed, I have a collection of 300 pictures of Lincoln taken at various times and all these show him clean and neatly attired."

SON OF BISHOP
WINS ACQUITTAL
IN MURDER CASE

Now Free To Take Up
Desired Career As Newspaper Man

New York, Feb. 6—(UP)—James Mathew Maxon, Jr., son of the Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Connecticut, was free today to look for a job on a newspaper after acquittal last night on a charge of second degree murder.

He had been charged with the killing of David Paynter, 73, during a free-for-all rooming house fight that followed some drinking by all in the fight, Maxon and witnesses who testified he killed Paynter.

The jury returned its verdict after deliberating three hours and nine minutes.

After the verdict the freed defendant grasped the hand of Martin Littleton, veteran criminal attorney and old friend of his father, kissed his father, shook hands with William B. Moore, Assistant District Attorney and thanked each juror.

During the trial Ross Hickey, Maxon's landlady, testified he tried to attack her the night of the free-for-all. Two other witnesses described the killing of Paynter in the free-for-all caused by the alleged attacks.

Maxon claimed he had gone to Mrs. Hickey's room to ask about a gas line shutoff after twisting off a pipe attempting to straighten it, that her screams caused the fight, that a chair wielded by another broke the lights in the room, and that Paynter was killed by one of the party, identity unknown, in the dark.

Mrs. Hickey was treated for alcoholism next morning records showed.

Maxon had come to New York to make good as a writer, after newspaper experience in Chattanooga, Tenn., and Dover, N. J., and was a student at Columbia. A short story on which he was working the night of the killing was introduced as evidence in the trial.

They then proceeded to the presidential palace.

DETAILS OF HIT
AND RUN DEATH
GIVEN TO JURY

Fellow Workman Witness-
ed Fatal Accident
To N. Pitruitt

Dan Bogoson, cement plant worker, witnessed the accident last Friday evening about 8 o'clock which resulted in the death of Nicolai Pitruitt, who was struck by a vampire car on the state highway, route 2 paving near the curve at the Medusa Cement Co. plant. Bogoson and Pitruitt were standing one on each side of the road talking when the east-bound sedan rounded the turn and struck Pitruitt just after he had taken one step on the paving.

This information was presented to the Coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday afternoon at the Jones funeral home, the first of any word from a witness since the finding of the man's body by Arthur Pettinger a few minutes after the accident.

Bogoson told the jury that he had spent the afternoon in Dixon and was returning to his home in the vicinity of the cement plant. Just after walking around the curve, Bogoson said that he met Pitruitt coming toward Dixon on the opposite side of the highway. The two men stopped as they stood on the shoulder and talked.

A large black closed car driving east, made the turn just as Pitruitt took a step onto the paving. He was struck and thrown and the driver slowed down and turned into a drive, apparently to return to the scene of the accident.

Driver Changed Mind

Bogoson ran after the car as he saw Pitruitt thrown, calling to the driver that he had killed a man. The car had almost stopped in the drive, according to Bogoson's story, when the driver suddenly backed his car on the paving and drove east from the scene of the accident at high speed. Bogoson testified that he was unable to distinguish license plates on the fleeing car and could not tell how many passengers were in the car.

When the returning car scene, he found Harry Fritz and Speck Wolf standing by the body he said, and Arthur Pettinger of Dixon had just arrived with his car.

Pettinger testified that he was on his way to Oregon to spend the evening and shortly after making the turn at the cement plant, his headlights revealed the body of a man lying on his back at the south side of the scene.

He drove on a short distance, turned around and came back in placing the unconscious man in his car and he hurried to the Dixon police station where he informed State Highway Officer Kenneth L. Church, who directed him to proceed to the hospital with the injured man.

Native of Rumania

Pitruitt, a Rumanian, had been employed at the cement plant for the past two years. He is not believed to have any relatives in this country, but papers found in his shack yesterday afternoon by Coroner Frank M. Banker indicated that he had forwarded his savings to his native country. He had been in the United States about 20 years but was not naturalized. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning with interment in Oakwood.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict finding that death was due to lobar pneumonia, contributory to a skull fracture, sustained in being struck by a car, the driver of which was unknown to the jury.

Sister Of Dixonite
Died Thursday Morn

Mrs. Michael Delhey of Sterling, sister of Joseph A. Schauf of this city and well known in Dixon, passing away at her home in Sterling yesterday morning, death ending an illness of several weeks' duration.

Mrs. Delhey had been a patient in the Dixon public hospital where she received treatment for some time.

She was born in Whiteside county, June 12, 1863. Besides her husband, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Gaulfar of Wheaton, Minn., and two brothers, Joseph A. Schauf of this city and John Schauf of Sterling. Funeral services will be conducted from the Sacred Heart church at Sterling Saturday morning at 11 o'clock with interment in the Sacred Heart cemetery.

Gen. Butler Facing
Loss Of $100,000

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—The efforts of one of the large broadcasting groups to obtain permission for putting the Butler court-martial on the air have met with a cold turn-down at the Navy Department.

Incidentally friends of General Butler today computed that if the court-martial resulted in his dismissal from the service it would cost him just about $100,000.

General Butler's base pay is $30,000 a year. He is 49 years old, having served 32 years in the Marine Corps. A Marine officer of Butler's rank is eligible for retirement on request after 30 years service. His retired pay would be $6,000 a year.

If he resigned with the expectation of living to the age of 70 he would receive $120,000 for the 20 years. Dismissal from the service would prevent his receiving retired pay.

A drastic surgical operation recently saved the "George" Washington, tree in Peekskill, N. Y., which was used as a whipping post in Revolutionary times.

TRANSFORMATION

W HEN summer wearies of her loveliness, Her brilliant colors and her gentle mood, She turns her sun-wrought mantle inside out And simulates a manner sternly rude.

Her warmest friend, though grieved at her caprice, Spangles her snowy robe with glints of steel, And hangs his crystals on her whitened trees, His full, prismatic colors to reveal; Then winter blossoms into beauty, too, And all the world is wonderful and new.

E. R. B. Class Held Enjoyable Meeting

The E. R. B. class of St. Paul's Lutheran Bible School held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening in the church parlors. The attendance was splendid. The meeting opened with the singing of the class song, Mrs. Tobias Switzer read the 122nd Psalm, Miss Eleanor Powell led in prayer. All present joined in the singing of two patriotic songs, "America" and "America the Beautiful." The reports of the officers and chairmen of committees were given and accepted. There being no new business, all stood and prayed together the Lord's Prayer. A delightful program was then given. Miss Eleanor Powell gave a very humorous reading entitled "Billie and the Easter Eggs." Mrs. Tobias Switzer read an article, "Abraham Lincoln and the Temperance Revolution." This was by authentic authority, discrediting the story some time told that our immortal Lincoln was not a temperance man.

Master Ned Auman accompanied on the piano by his mother gave a musical recitation entitled "The Ginger Bread Bear." Master Ned is only five years old, but he gave this quite like an old timer, and received prolonged applause. Mrs. Earl Auman then sang in her usual charming way "Trust Ye in the Lord" by Scott. Mrs. Auman has a beautiful voice and class members are always glad when she is on the program. The committee served delicious refreshments and a social hour was much enjoyed.

Ideal Club Meeting Enjoyed Wednesday

The Ideal Club was very charmingly entertained at its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Fulton.

Mrs. Lola Peters opened the afternoon's program with interesting current events. A paper on Gene Stratton Porter, given by Mrs. Martha Belers, covered important events in the author's life and included the names and a word concerning some of her best known stories.

Very tempting refreshments in-keeping with the spirit of Valentine's day, were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Anderson of Taylorville and Mrs. Clymer of Dixon were guests of the afternoon.

Now the Rev. Lowe has Plenty to Worry About
Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Because of his remarks about the wearing of pajamas, the girls of Southwestern, a Presbyterian college, have demanded that the Rev. R. Girard Lowe, a young Presbyterian minister, apologize.

The minister told the trustees witnesses could be produced to prove co-eds had danced publicly in pajamas, "shorts that came just below the hips" and veils.
The co-eds defended themselves in detail, asserting the garments in question were beach pajamas and that no boys were present at their display.
Mr. Lowe said he wanted it understood he had said "some of them wore veils over the shorts."

Mrs. M. H. Townsend, Dean of Women, collected 126 written denials. Issued a statement reprimanding the pastor and called the girls to meet to draft a demand that he apologize publicly.

Prof. and Mrs. H. V. Baldwin Are Honored

A company of about seventy friends gathered last evening to honor Prof. and Mrs. H. V. Baldwin who are leaving Dixon soon for Bay City, Michigan, where they expect to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Harold S. Hyde.

The members of the Agoda class of the Baptist Sunday school, the members of Mrs. Striet's class and Mrs. W. H. Winn, chairman of church entertainments or social life, all planned and carried to a happy culmination the delightful affair of last evening, with the assistance of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Marshall, teachers and church members. A delicious supper was served at the Baptist supper and there were a number of splendid addresses, all voicing appreciation of Prof. and Mrs. Baldwin and of their work and love for the church, and also voicing the regret of all present at the prospect of the departure of these good citizens from the city and Dixon's civic life. Rev. and Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. R. W. Sproul, Mrs. Katherine Ballou and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller, were some of the speakers who gave toasts to the Baldwins. May they return often to visit Dixon is the wish of her citizens. For years Prof. H. V. Baldwin has been a member of the North Side schools, and he and his wife have been members of the Baptist church ever since their arrival in Dixon. As a token of esteem and friendship, a tangible expression of regard, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were presented with a handsome leather traveling bag, with the best wishes of the donors. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin graciously expressed their appreciation of the gift and the kindly prompting thought. Before dispersing all present sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Charges That McCormick Jr., Was Cruel to Her

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(UP)—Charges that Cyrus H. McCormick, Jr., Vice-President of the International Harvester Company, was cruel to her, were made today by the multi-millionaire's wife, Dorothy Linn McCormick, in a divorce suit on file in Superior Court.

Mrs. McCormick's attorney, Frederick C. Hack, said it was not anticipated that McCormick, who is en route to Europe, would contest the suit. No alimony was asked.

McCormick is a grandson of the late Cyrus McCormick, I, who founded the International Harvester Company. Mrs. McCormick's father, William R. Linn, was a man of 50 years and her family has been among the first in Chicago society for several generations. She was married to McCormick on Feb. 13, 1915, and, according to the suit, they separated May 26, 1930. She mentioned several acts of physical cruelty in her bill.

Mrs. McCormick, a graduate of Miss Porter's School at Farmington, Conn., and of the Stuart Walker Dramatic School at Cincinnati, has been identified prominently with dramatic entertainments.

McCormick began work for the harvester company in 1914, starting in the plant at Madison, Wis. He is a graduate of Princeton and attended Oxford University in England.

St. James Ladies' Aid Met Feb. 7th.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of St. James Church were entertained Wednesday, Feb. 4th, by Mrs. Patrick Duffy, Mrs. Lahmen and Mrs. Patterson, at the home of Mrs. Duffy, 307 Third street, Dixon. It was an all day meeting with a picnic dinner at noon, the hostess serving the main course of chicken and accessories, to which all did ample justice.

The afternoon program was especially enjoyable. The president Mrs. Topper, after a song by all, opened the program by reading a sermonette by Dr. Holland, entitled "Keep Pegging Away."

During the business session of the program it was voted to give ten dollars to the Red Cross for southern relief work.

Mrs. Maud Hand gave two selections on the harmonica which were enthusiastically received.

The play After Twenty Years, was then given. In the play Aunt Agatha is much concerned over the coming visit of her former girlhood lover, Captain May, who wishes to consult her about the coming marriage of his nephew and her niece, although he is very anxious to see her after so long an absence. She tries to tell herself and her niece Kitty, that she is to old to give the matter serious attention, but after accidentally hearing the "Captain" talking to her niece about the nephew and his love, she, thinking he is meaning himself, finds she was much mistaken about being "too old," and all ends happily.

The play was very well given, the part of Captain May being taken by Mrs. Alice Bahen; Aunt Agatha by Mrs. Amy Wolfram; and the part of the niece Kitty by Mrs. Ruth Rosbrook.

The next meeting of the Aid will be held with Mrs. Charles Breimer with Mrs. Green and daughter Dana as assistant hostesses. The roll call for the March meeting is "Trading of Bulbs and Seeds."

PEASANTS FREED OF DEBT AS WEDDING PRESENT—

Sofia.—(UP)—Instead of sending a wedding present to the King and Queen of Bulgaria, a wealthy peasant of Pleven to whom about 20 villagers owed comparatively large sums of money decided unconditionally to release them from their debts. His action was due to his interpretation of King Boris' wish that no money should be spent on gifts to them in view of the hard times through the country. His example has been followed by several other peasants.

RIVIERA STILL SEEKS SUN TANNED BACKS

Paris.—(AP)—The sun-lan vogue is on again and fashionable women expect to "brown as berries" next fall. Despite all that has been said about retaining white skins in keeping with feminine styles, women preparing for a Riviera season are investing in bottles of amber oil that snap to the belts of their bathing suits to aid in the tanning process. Bathing suits themselves have less backs than ever before.

NEW SYNTHETIC DIMPLE THE STYLE—

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Portable dimples that can be changed from place to place to suit the changing styles are now available.

This was brought out at a convention of cosmeticians, one of whom said:

"A natural dimple is of course a thing of beauty, but it may be so placed as to be valueless. Changing styles, for example, may reveal a natural dimple one season and completely hide it the next."

"With the new synthetic dimple the owner can meet all style changes without fear. It can be placed on the cheek, arm, shoulder or chin, if preferred."

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

IN making pastry, roll in one direction only. If you roll first in one direction and then in another, your crust is always sure to be tough. To improve both flavor and appearance, brush a sugar syrup over the crust just before taking from the oven. Make the sugar syrup by dissolving one-half cup of sugar in one-quarter cup boiling water.

When preparing fruit salad, sprinkle bananas, peaches, pears and apples with lemon juice and sugar, as soon as they are cut. This helps to prevent discoloration.

Daily Health Talk

DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT OF HOOKWORM DISEASE IS SIMPLE

When a person is suspected of having hookworm disease, the diagnosis is made by finding the eggs of the worms in the excretions or by finding the worms themselves in the excretions after the person has had some treatment.

The examination includes study with the microscope, which can be made by anyone trained in the proper technique. Various methods have been developed for filtering the excretions and for detecting the eggs so that they will not be overlooked.

Whenever the patient reports stunted growth, anemia, changes in the blood, and an attack of ground itch, the suspicion arises that he suffers with this disease.

At present, following extensive investigations made through the Rockefeller Foundation, three drugs are regularly used in the treatment of hookworm disease. These drugs are thymol, oil of chenopodium and carbon tetrachloride. Thymol has been used for the longest time, but various physicians differ in their choice of remedies for individual patients.

The treatment is, however, exceedingly simple. It involves usually the clearing out of the system by the use of purgatives at night and the administration on the next day of the proper dose of the remedy when thymol is used.

When oil of chenopodium is used, it is not usually desirable to abstain from food or to use the purgative previously. Carbon tetrachloride is the remedy, exceedingly popular at the present time. It has had extensive use by workers in the Rockefeller Foundation who have treated thousands of cases without any ill effects.

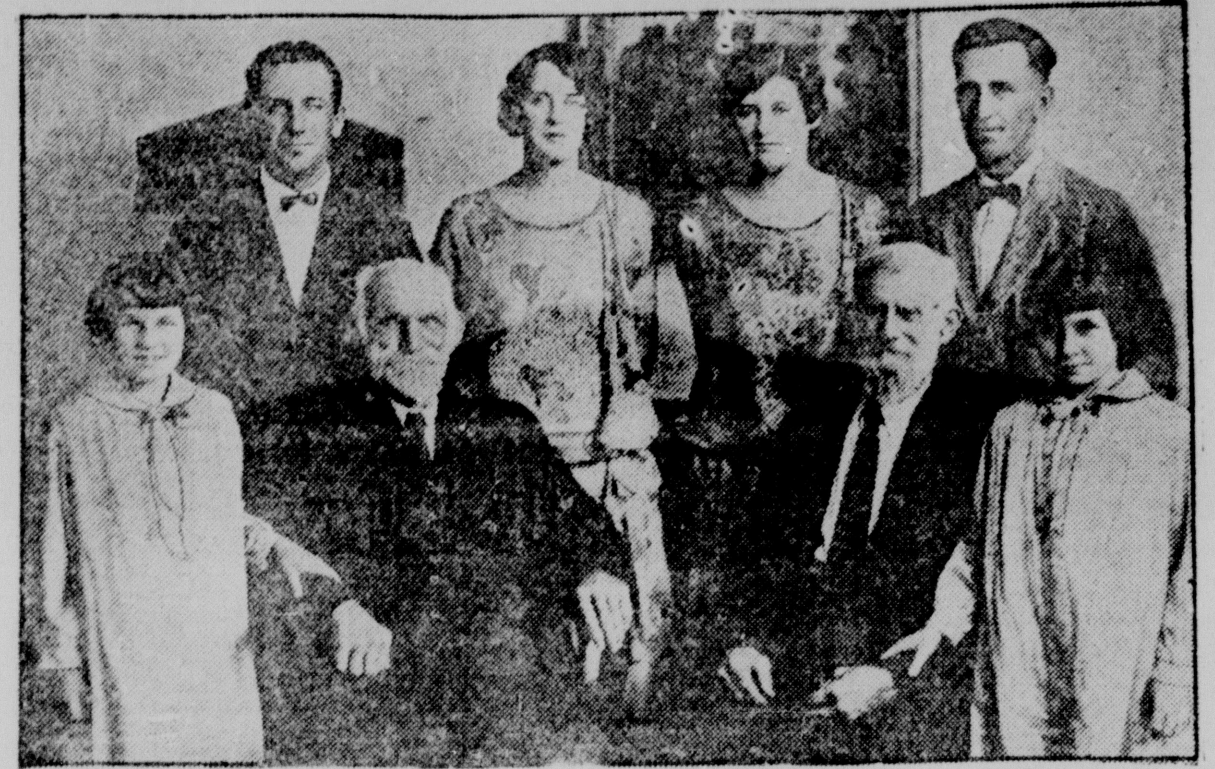

Once the patient with hookworm disease is freed of the worms, he begins to recover rapidly from his anemia, provided he is given good food with good building values. The diet should be one similar to that taken for anemia, including plenty of leafy green vegetables, liver, milk and similar substances. The physician can prescribe iron in a form suitable to the patient, which will aid rapidly in building the red coloring matter of the blood.

Twins are the rule instead of the exception in this household. The unusual picture shows the four sets of twins who have graced three generations of the Ruff family of Delta, Pa. A Boys' and Girls' Club corn show will be held in Amboy today and Saturday at the Legion Hall (Opera house). Attractive premiums are being offered in several classes for the boys in the corn club of Lee County.

Besides the club class at the show, there will be an open class sponsored by the merchants of Amboy, who have all subscribed very generously toward the premiums. Watch the Farm Bureau paper for a complete premium list in all classes. If you have some good corn, enter it in the open class, which is open to anyone in Lee County.

Land Office Is Feeling Effects Of "Depression"

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Thousands of city dwellers are seeking to find out if there's a place for them in the big open spaces of the west.

At a rate of 400 to 600 a day their letters are piling up at the General Land Office. They want to know how to go about filing claims for homesteads on public lands.

Long-time employees of the Land Office recalled today that in each of the depressions of the past 30 years, applicants for government lands doubled and trebled. They are following the precedent now in even greater proportion but the news they get is less encouraging.

For little if any of the public domain remaining is suitable for farming and the Land Office in giving applicants instructions on establishing claims add that warning.

Most of the letters come from the thickly populated urban centers of the east and central United States. Thousands of the land seekers belong to the "White collar" class of workers, who despite agriculture's troubles fondly believe it would be easier to grow the food they are finding it difficult to buy.

Many letters, however, come from farmers in the east who want to move, and a good proportion is written by sons of farmers who strayed from the furrows in their youth to search for metropolitan fame.

During the fiscal year ended last June 5,434,500 homestead entries were recorded. The year before they were just more than four and a half million. Records for the last six months are not complete but officials estimated today the total of entries and applications would run well into the millions.

Code Message Baffles Expert

Locust Grove Ark.—(UP)—A copper plate, inscribed with a strange code message, is puzzling archeologists in the Ozarks.

The copper plate, eight inches long and five inches high, was found riveted to a rock in a cave near here, Walter Curtis, a farmer, found it when he followed his dog into the cave, when the dog went in after a rabbit.

On the plate are figures resembling arabic letters, crudely drawn, some that look like Roman numerals, and several arrows and other characters. So far attempts to decipher the inscription have been fruitless. All the arrows point in the same direction, leading to a belief the message gives directions for reaching something or other.

Since the copper has eroded until many of the characters are barely discernible, those who have seen the plate believe it is several centuries old.

The plate was sent to the Smithsonian Institution, but experts there could not explain it, saying they believed it was either a code message, or a clever fake.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS LANDIS' SUPREME POWER ASSAULTED IN COURT ACTION

But Base Ball Czar Is Not Among Those At The Ceremonies

United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Feb. 6—(UP)—Followers of America's national pastime turned today from consideration of the new-type baseball to a Chicago federal court room where a question of the supreme power of baseball's dictator, former Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, has been raised.

Although the suit brought against the Commissioner by the St. Louis Browns and the Milwaukee Brewers ball club was, in fact, a suit for injunction restraining Landis from interfering with the transfer of Fred Bennett, outfielder, between the two clubs, observers saw in the case a test of the Commissioner's authority, which never before had been questioned.

The suit, brought jointly by the two clubs, was filed because Landis ordered Milwaukee to return Bennett to the major league club after his most recent farming out last year.

At that time Landis told the United Press that the order was issued because the continual transfer of Bennett was a violation of the major leagues' constitutional agreement. This empowers the Commissioner to declare a free agent any player who is constantly shifted between the leagues.

Upon the refusal of Milwaukee to return Bennett to the Browns, Landis threatened to declare the player a free agent. This resulted in the suit for injunction.

Was Willing Party
Bennett also has been farmed out to the Tulsa and Wichita minor league clubs, and the plaintiffs in the present action contend that he was a willing party to all of these transfers. They insisted also that he wished to remain at Milwaukee rather than be returned to St. Louis.

Landis did not appear yesterday at the trial, which is being held in the same court room where he achieved prominence more than 20 years ago when he fined the Standard Oil Co. $29,000,000 in a rebate case. He was represented by his counsel, George Miller.

Bennet, seeking to be declared a free agent with the Commissioner's help, was in court, but did not testify. The opening session was devoted to submission of evidence in support of the Milwaukee clubs' contention that Landis had overstepped his authority in dealing with the Bennett situation.

Attorney Guy Peters representing the two clubs, questioned the contention that Landis is the final authority in baseball matters and charged the Commissioner with having amended the leagues' agreement without consulting or advising them.

Edward S. Barnard, president of the American League, and officers of the complaining clubs, were among those who testified.

SPORT BRIEFS

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Although the New York Yankees are not accustomed to announcing when their players sign contracts, Secretary Ed Harrow has disclosed that only seven Yankees have not signed for 1931. Harrow would not name the unsigned seven.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 6—(AP)—Joe Sharkey, Albion middleweight was too slow in arising when he was knocked down by Meyer Grace, Chicago, in the first round of a scheduled ten round bout here last night and over his protests, he was ruled knocked out.

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Charley Moran, regular National League umpire, has been engaged by the New York Giants to officiate at their exhibition games this year. Moran succeeds Bill Brennan, who did the work for the Giants for the past two years.

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—Every regular on the Cubs' 1930 roster, has signed his 1931 contract, and Manager Rogers Hornsby and pitcher Fred Blake already are on their way to training camp at Catalina Island, California. President William Veeck said that only a few recruits had failed to send in their contracts, and that none was considered a holdout.

Hartington, Tex., Feb. 6—(AP)—Warming up play for the competition set to begin tomorrow in the Texas border country's first open golf tournament was the best professional and amateur shots of the country today. Al Espinosa of Chicago appeared as a favorite in yesterday's preliminaries coming in first with Craig Wood, New Jersey. Al took a 30-35 on the 72 par course in best ball play.

BASEBALL'S BIGGEST BONERS

GEORGE SISLER, playing with St. Louis, once pulled a "boomerang" boner, in that it reacted favorably to his own team. Trying to save a favorite bat that had been cracked, he drove about 30 nails into it, near the end. In a tight game against Chicago, with a runner on first, Sisler poled out a single with this bat. Ray Schalk, Chicago catcher, called the umpire's attention to the fact that the bat was not regulation. Sisler was made to bat over again. He chose a new bat and this time tore off a triple that scored the run and won the game, much to Schalk's disgust.

Next in imposts were Caruso and Conclave from the W. R. Coe string, with 115 pounds each. The colt Up, racing for Mrs. James N. Crofton, will carry 100 pounds. Hey Diddle, Diddle and Good and Hot, both fast runners, also will take 100 pounds.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 6—(UP)—Runners that H. O. "Pat" Page, former football coach of Indiana University, would drop his contemplated suit against the university for alleged salary owed him on his 1931 contract, have been denied by the former coach.

Page denied last night that he would drop the action against the University for $16,750 which he claims the school will owe him up to April 1, when he returns to the University of Chicago as Assistant to Coach Alonzo A. Stagg.

The Indiana Daily Student, campus publication, yesterday reported that John W. Craves, Registrar and Secretary of the Board of Trustees, said that Page would not take action in the matter.

Schmeling Is Sued For Alleged Attack
Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 6—(AP)—No stranger to legal complications, Max Schmeling will have to defend himself against a $35,000 damage suit in the New Jersey courts.

The world's heavyweight champion was arrested at Summit, N. J., yesterday and required to post $10,000 bond for his appearance at trial of a suit brought on behalf of Joseph Rahl, Jr., 30-year-old process server of New York.

Asking $25,000 damages, Rahl alleged Schmeling tossed him down the steps of a New York hotel last Monday when he attempted to serve papers in another suit on the German boxer. An additional $10,000 is sought by Rahl's father for loss of his son's services, and for medical treatment.

Rahl charged that "Schmeling violently and outrageously battered me and lifted me bodily and hurled me down the fifteen marble steps."

Deputy Sheriffs served a capias writ on Schmeling just as the boxer and some friends had completed nine holes of golf and were having lunch before finishing the round.

Schmeling, who is training at Madame Bey's camp at Summit, went to Elizabeth and posted the required bond before a Supreme Court Commissioner.

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 6—(AP) Captain Malcolm Campbell has become the first man ever to travel at the rate of four miles a minute in an automobile, but he is not satisfied.

Despite warnings that conditions were not the best for super speed, Campbell drove his huge Bluebird II over the beach sands here yesterday to an astounding new world's record of 245.733 miles per hour. From this dizzying height of speed, the dauntless 46-year-old Englishman today surveyed his achievement and wanted to better it.

If the weather and beach conditions permit he said he was ready to go out and try to lower his own mark before he returns to England. He said he might try for a five kilometer record.

Campbell is the only man now living who has attained a speed on land of more than 200 miles per hour. The rest, Ray Keesh, Sir H. O. D. Seagrave, Lee Bible and Frank Lockhart, have met death behind the wheel, Seagrave while trying for a water speed mark in England.

Broke Seagrave's Record
It was Seagrave's record of 231 miles per hour that Campbell wrestled yesterday; Seagrave had claimed it from Keesh. Bible and Lockhart died on Daytona sands while Keesh lost his life racing at Altona.

Campbell, the fatalist, shrugs his shoulders when danger is mentioned. His runs yesterday gave him a great thrill, he said. The best sensation came when he shifted from second into high gear and the car fairly took wings.

"That feeling was wonderful," he said. "A most wonderful sensation—as the car carried me away in that tremendous burst of speed. Really words cannot describe that wonderful sensation."

On the first run Campbell flashed through the measured mile at a speed of 246.575 miles per hour. He returned and was clocked at 244.897 miles per hour. Two runs are necessary for an official record, the mark being the average of the two speeds.

Car Held Course
Despite soft places in the sand left by a receding tide, the car held the course like a bullet. Campbell said a big thrill came on the south run when the car took a bad swing as he swerved to miss a soft spot. He couldn't afford to take his foot off the accelerator because he would lose speed so he held it down and the machine straightened out neatly. So great was the speed of the machine that photographers sighting it a mile away, barely had time to take focus and snap their films before it flashed by.

Campbell dared another hazard in order to be certain he would make his runs within the required time. At all other speed attempts, the tires subjected to terrific strain, have been changed after the first run. Campbell's tires were hard to change and he feared he could not manage it within the 30 minutes allowed. So, he simply turned and ran back on the same tires.

SPORTSMANSHIP IS STRESSED BY DIRECTOR HUFF

Says the Future Of College Athletics Depends Upon Fair Play

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 6—(UP)—The future of college athletics is up to sportsmanship of the coaches, according to George Huff, Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois.

Writing in the February number of the Illinois High School Athlete, published by the State High School Athletic Association, Huff points out that inter-school and inter-collegiate athletics are being examined with a critical eye and that their future depends upon the way they are conducted by those in charge. "There has been a great advance and the coaches have had much to do with this," Huff said. "Here and there, however, we may still find a coach of fine character personally, who may imbue his players with a spirit of hostility and bitterness to their opponents. But as a rule the sportsmanship of the players has been far better than that of the spectators."

Huff referred to basketball as a sport which has made the problem acute "because it is played at close hand and its nature places a heavy burden on the officials."

"The actions of the coach will have much to do with the attitude. If he shows that he objects to decisions, the crowd cannot be expected to show better sportsmanship. Officials make mistakes but that is to be expected. The coach dwells on the mistakes which hurt his team but never thinks about the ones that hurt the other fellow."

Huff believes that one of the most unsportsmanlike and unpleasant tendencies of today is the "boo."

"It is not only ungentlemanly but cowardly, in my opinion, to hiss or boo at an athletic event or any other kind of entertainment," he said. "I say it is cowardly for probably not one spectator who hisses or boos from the stands would have the courage to approach an official and do the same thing at close quarters. An instance of good sportsmanship encouraging good will between nations was cited by Huff."

When Keio University of Japan played baseball at Illinois some years ago, Huff said, the University band obtained the music of the national anthem of Japan and when the teams took the field proceeded to play it.

The Japanese players, Huff said, declared they were more effected by this than anything else that happened on their trip across the United States.

Dagger-Play Broke Up Japanese Diet

Tokyo, Feb. 6—(AP)—Dagger-play broke up a budget committee meeting in the antechamber of the House of Representatives today and in the ensuing melee about a dozen persons, including two members of the Diet, were injured.

Ash trays and other articles were thrown in the fight. Police reported several persons suffered cuts on their heads and hands and others received bruises from clubs and cuts from crashing glass.

The skirmish started when the opposition launched an effort to unseat the Mineito (majority party) Ministry with attacks on Baron Shidehara, Foreign Minister, who has been acting head of the government since the wounding of Premier Hamaguchi by an alleged fanatic several weeks ago.

Sapp's Companion Has Deserted Him
Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—J. Everett Sapp, Rockford phonograph salesman, was free today to go back to his wife.

Helen Shaner, with whom he eloped Dec. 9, 1930, to Minneapolis, said she was through with him.

"I never want to see him again," she added.

The couple's flight was "announced" to the world when Sapp's car and his bullet-pierced hat was found near Beloit. They admitted later that it was all a ruse.

Larceny charges, growing out of allegations that Sapp had misappropriated nine phonographs, were dismissed yesterday.

HUNT HER TO MILLION

Patented Roasting Process Gives Hills Bros. Coffee Distinctive Flavor

By a radically different process of flavor-control, Hills Bros. have given their rare blend of coffee a flavor such as no other coffee has. "A little at a time" is the basis of this patented process—Controlled Roasting. A constant stream of green coffee is introduced into the roasters in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. The heat is automatically controlled so any variation in the roast is absolutely prevented.

Such uniformity of the roast is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care some of the coffee is roasted too much—some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold everywhere by grocers. Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Chicago, Illinois.

BUTLER'S DEEDS HAVE BROUGHT TO HIM GREAT GLORY

Quaker School Boy's Rise To Honor Is Brief- ly Traced

By Raymond Clapper
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)
Washington, Feb. 6 (UP)—Though Major General Smedley Butler has been regarded as one of the hardest of the Marines, in this respect he probably has been a victim of his devotion to duty.

In his family life he is gentle. He says "thee" and "thou" in addressing his wife.

When he was in charge of the embarkation camp at Brest after the armistice, word was sent that a very high American officer was coming and it was suggested that the troops awaiting return home be turned out for review.

The place was a mudhole. The troops were restless. The war had been won; they wanted to get back home. General Butler was doing his best to send the men passing through his camp back home with good morale and that they might more easily fall back into civil life. Resentful demobilized soldiers would make poor citizens at that time. So General Butler sent word back to the high officer that he hoped there would be no review ordered.

Thought of Men
"I'm not going to have those men standing out there in the mud getting pneumonia just before they go home," he said.

Back at Quantico after the war, General Butler took his command on a practice march to one of the old Virginia Civil War battlefields. His men were youngsters who had mostly enlisted too late for the war. They were a little tender, some of them. A pair fell out during the march and General Butler, riding up, dismounted.

"Give me that pack," he said to one of them. "I'll show you what it is to be a Marine." He threw the kit over his back and marched along the dusty road with his men.

Such incidents endeared him to his service comrades. But after his experiences in Philadelphia when he went to San Diego to command the Marine base there, in incident took place which subjected him to much criticism in and out of the service.

The San Diego post was temporarily in command of Col. Alexander Williams, a friend of General Butler's for 23 years. They had served all over the world together and in Haiti when Butler left, he recommended Williams for the command.

Found Guests Drinking
Butler was a conspicuous figure when he arrived in San Diego because of his spectacular attempt to dry up Philadelphia. Col. Williams arranged a dinner at his home for Butler. Arriving at the Williams home, General Butler observed the guests, officers, drinking. There was general embarrassment among the guests and General Butler promptly went out on the front porch with another officer and sat there chatting awhile, expecting the drinks to be cleared away before the dinner began.

But, instead drinking continued. Butler then left the Williams home without waiting for dinner and proceeded to the Coronado hotel. Col. Williams followed and, according to witnesses, reproached his superior in the hotel lobby, and appearing to be intoxicated, became boisterous. Butler left and attended an enlisted men's dance at the post.

The next day Butler went to the commanding officer of the base, Rear Admiral A. H. Robertson, and laid the facts before him. The Admiral told Butler that he must report Williams or be subject to court-martial himself for neglect of duty. Accordingly Butler drew up charges accusing Williams of being drunk at the hotel, without mentioning anything which happened at the Colonel's home. At the court-martial, Williams was reduced four numbers and transferred.

General Butler always as felt privately that he was unfairly accused in the popular mind of having turned in his host for serving cocktails. On the contrary, Butler's friends say he based the case entirely upon the Colonel's conduct in a public place and that he was compelled under naval regulations to report any subordinate so conducting himself.

This incident distressed Butler perhaps more than anything that occurred in his career and he soon asked for transfer to China where a chance for action was in prospect.

CHARGE BIG "DIPLOMA MILL"
 St. Louis, Feb. 5.—(UP)—A federal investigation of a "huge diploma mill" said to be operating in New York will be asked. Prosecuting Attorney Rosecan said today, on the basis of confession made by Harry P. Frost of New York and Robert M. Adcox.
 Frost and Adcox, who are serving sentences for selling medical diplomas here, told him, Rosecan said, that they were agents for a large ring now operating in New York.

Many have ordered the Dixon Telegraph as a New Year's gift to be sent to out-of-town relatives and friends.
